

COUNSELING CORNER

Counseling at the Children's Center is goal oriented. When kids complete TF-CBT, they get to graduate.

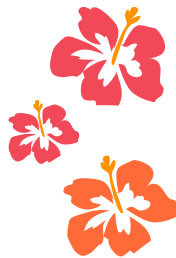

"Graduations are a time for celebration of the client and their family's success in completing Trauma Focused Therapy. A client is given the option to paint their hand print on the graduation canvas. It leaves their own personal print for other clients to see. When kids and their parents see those hand prints they know that others have experienced trauma and that others have been successful at completing counseling."

-Clinical Supervisor, Teressa Berry
